The Things That Make Me Who I Am

Traveling with Purpose

To travel the world has always been a dream of mine, and through the connections and friendships I've made, I now hold love for various parts of the world that I am now seeking opportunities to travel to.

To travel with purpose for me means to truly immerse myself, not just to experience, but to bring that experience home and motivate those around me to want to see the world themselves.

Film and Video Creation

Film and video is my strongest passion as it allows me to be as creative as I want.

From vlogging, to gaming, and soon to my dream of creating other types of content, this passion truly allows me to be myself, share my experiences, and show others that there is no limit to how much you can express yourself if you just go for it.

Music

Music has always been a huge part of my life from when I started as a percussionist in elementary school, to now developing the skills to create my own songs.

It is my medium of sharing my emotions through lyrics and melodies, and holds my dream that others will hear my music, connect with my experiences, and not feel like their struggles are theirs alone.

Mental Health

One of the biggest battles of my youth has been against my own mind. To be overwhelmed with emotions and moods that you feel no control over is an issue that too many go through, and one that is not talked about enough.

As I am now pursuing an education in psychology, I am closer to my dream of being an advocate for those that struggle with mental health.

My Friends

My motivation to achieve my dreams.

Representation

Every decision that I make holds with it the dreams and goals of all that I represent.

From my family to my background and culture; from my friends to my passions and interests; and from my college to every single one of my involvements. I take every opportunity to represent, and do so with complete passion and respect.

Leading with Sonder

Sonder is the realization that every human being around you is living their own complex life.

As a leader, I value sonder and its reminder that others have dreams just as important as mine. By creating an atmosphere of trust, my peers are able to express themselves freely, and I am able to support them and all that they want to achieve.

Growth

I truly value growth, and the potential we each have to enrich our lives and get closer to reaching our dreams.

Whether it be through professional development, self-confidence, pursuit of knowledge, or any form of growth, I strive to implement enrichment in almost every aspect of my life.
